

HydroMelon Cream

nourish & restore

DESCRIPTION

This luxurious Face, Neck & Décolleté Cream delivers a multi-dimensional approach to rejuvenation, combining advanced plant actives, peptides, and nutrient-rich botanical oils to visibly lift, firm, and deeply hydrate the skin. It provides an instant tightening effect while promoting long-term firmness and elasticity, helping to refine facial and neck contours for a more sculpted appearance. The formula enhances skin structure and resilience, reduces the look of fine lines, and improves overall smoothness and tone. Infused with natural humectants and barrier-repairing emollients, it restores essential lipids, reinforces moisture balance, and strengthens the skin's structure and protective function. Antioxidant-rich botanical oils nourish and soothe, leaving the skin soft, supple, and luminous.

KEY INGREDIENTS

Hydrolyzed Manihot Esculenta (Cassava) Tuber Extract is a plant-derived active known for its immediate lifting and smoothing effects on the skin. Rich in natural polysaccharides, it forms a light, flexible film on the skin's surface that provides an instant tightening sensation, helping to visibly firm and refine skin texture. Beyond its lifting action, it offers soothing and comforting benefits, helping to calm irritation and support a smoother, more even complexion. This ingredient delivers both instant surface tightening and long-term skin comfort, leaving the skin looking firmer, refreshed, and refined.

Paeonia Albiflora (Peony) Root Extract is a rejuvenating botanical known for its powerful ability to counteract premature aging by regulating cellular communication and supporting optimal skin function. It helps restore density and elasticity, revitalizing the skin's structure for a firmer, smoother appearance. This extract works to remodel facial and neck contours, enhancing definition and tone while improving overall resilience. Peony Root also aids in restoring vitality and radiance, leaving the skin soft, supple, and visibly renewed.

Trifluoroacetyl Tripeptide-2 is an advanced biomimetic peptide that helps visibly lift and firm the skin while supporting the structural proteins responsible for youthful tone and resilience. It works to reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles by improving the skin's elasticity and overall texture. This peptide also plays a key role in maintaining DNA integrity and cellular longevity, helping to counteract signs of premature aging. It delivers targeted firming and rejuvenation support, promoting smoother, more sculpted contours and a revitalized appearance.

Xylitylglucoside, Anhydroxylitol, and Xylitol Complex is a powerful trio of plant-derived humectants works synergistically to deliver intense, long-lasting hydration and strengthen the skin's natural barrier. By reinforcing the stratum corneum and stimulating the synthesis of essential lipids and Natural Moisturizing Factors (NMF), the complex helps restore the skin's protective balance and improve its overall resilience. It also promotes barrier repair and restructuring of the skin matrix, resulting in smoother texture, enhanced elasticity, and a firmer, more supple neck. The combined action of these ingredients provides comprehensive hydration, barrier reinforcement, and visible renewal for healthier, more youthful-looking skin.

Citrullus Lanatus (Mokaté Melon) Seed Oil is a lightweight yet nutrient-rich botanical oil known for its exceptional hydrating, nourishing, and restorative properties. Naturally high in essential fatty acids (including linoleic and oleic acids) and antioxidants such as vitamin E, it helps replenish lipids within the skin barrier, promoting optimal moisture retention and improved elasticity. Its restores the skin's protective function, reducing transepidermal water loss. Rich in phytosterols and natural emollients, this oil also supports cell regeneration and barrier repair, making it ideal for revitalizing dry, delicate, or mature skin.

Cucurbita Pepo (Pumpkin) Seed Oil is a deeply nourishing and moisturizing botanical oil rich in essential fatty acids, including linoleic and oleic acids, which help restore the skin's lipid balance and support long-lasting hydration. Abundant in antioxidants such as vitamins A, C, and E, as well as zinc, it helps protect the skin from environmental stress and premature aging. This nutrient-dense oil promotes overall skin health by reinforcing the skin barrier, improving elasticity, and encouraging natural regeneration. It delivers soothing nourishment that helps the skin feel soft, supple, and revitalized.
